GOLDEN GRIZZLIES WRITE NEW CHAPTER FOR MID-CON

Oakland became the first Mid-Continent Conference women's soccer team to appear in the NCAA Tournament, and the Golden Grizzlies almost posted a win in their first crack at the NCAA's. Anita Rapp and Erica Demers scored early to give Oakland a 2-0 lead, but the Golden Grizzlies could not hang on. Oakland still finished with 16 wins, which ties the school record set by the 1996 squad. Oakland earned the Mid-Con's first-ever automatic bid to the NCAA's.

OAKLAND WINS SECOND STRAIGHT MID-CON TITLE

The Oakland women's soccer team won its third straight Mid-Continent Conference regular-season title this season, and the Golden Grizzlies didn't stop their stranglehold of the league in the Mid-Con Tournament. Oakland beat IUPUI (4-0) and Oral Roberts (3-0) to win its second straight tournament title, as well as its first-ever berth to the NCAA Women's Soccer Tournament. Tournament MVP Anita Rapp scored three goals in the two wins, including game-winners in both contests.

MID-CON BOASTS OLYMPIC GOLD MEDALIST

Oakland shared the Mid-Con regular-season crown last season, and also captured its first-ever Mid-Con Tournament title, beating Oral Roberts, 2-1, in overtime. This season, the Golden Grizzlies welcomed the return of a player that missed that championship season. Senior midfielder Anita Rapp, who earned Mid-Con Co-Player of the Year honors as a junior in 1999, returned to the Oakland squad this season after taking a redshirt season last year. Rapp had good reason to miss the 2000 campaign, as she was busy winning an Olympic Gold Medal as part of the Norwegian Women's Soccer Team. Rapp was named the Mid-Con Co-Player of the Year again this season, and was also honored as the Mid-Con Tournament MVP.

EIGHT OAKLAND PLAYERS HEADLINE ALL-CONFERENCE TEAMS

The 2001 Mid-Con all-conference teams were dominated by the team that dominated the league. Oakland placed eight players on the two all-conference teams. League Co-Player of the Year Anita Rapp (who won the same honor in 1999) was named to the first team, as were Ashley McGhee, Kim Moore, Shelly Piccirillo, Christine Selesky and Gail Wilson. Moore and Wilson were both honored on the first team for the third straight season. Sarah Buckland and Debbie Cartmel were both named to the second team. In addition, rookie Katie Arnott was honored as the Mid-Con Newcomer of the Year. Oakland has had a player win at least Co-Player of the Year honors each season since 1999.

OAKLAND EARNS NATIONAL RANKING FROM SOCCER BUZZ

Oakland's season-long wait for a national ranking from one of the major college women's soccer polls ended on October 22, when the Golden Grizzlies earned their first-ever national rank from Soccer Buzz. Oakland debuted in the poll at No. 23, riding its nine-match unbeaten streak. The Golden Grizzlies received votes in both the NSCAA and Soccer Times Top 25 polls that week.

OAKLAND TABBED TO WIN MID-CON SOCCER TITLE IN PRESEASON POLL

The Oakland women's soccer team has been the squad to beat in the Mid-Continent Conference since the league began sponsoring the sport in 1999. League coaches expected Oakland to be the at the top of the Mid-Con again this season, as the Golden Grizzlies were picked first in the coaches' preseason poll. Oakland received five first-place votes, while second-place finisher Oral Roberts received one. The rest of the preseason poll included, in order: IUPUI, Valparaiso (both tied for third), Western Illinois and Southern Utah.

SOUTHERN UTAH SPONSORS SOCCER FOR FIRST TIME IN 2001

For the first time in school history, Southern Utah sponsored an intercollegiate women's soccer team in 2001. The Thunderbirds, led by former Youngstown State assistant coach Brian Stock, filled the void left by Youngstown State's departure to the Horizon League over the summer. The Thunderbirds were rated the fifth-best new program in 2001 by Soccer Buzz.

BRINE IS OFFICIAL BALL OF MID-CON AGAIN IN 2001

The Mid-Continent Conference takes on a new look this season, thanks to Southern Utah sponsoring women's soccer for the first time. However, the league's official ball won't change, as the Mid-Con and Brine team up again in 2001. Brine soccer balls will be used in all league games as well as the 2001 Mid-Con Tournament.

OAKLAND'S RAPP EARNS SOCCER BUZZ ELITE TEAM HONOR

Oakland standout midfielder Anita Rapp earned Mid-Con Player of the Week honors after the first week of the year, but that wasn't the only accolade the at-large Hermann Trophy candidate received. Rapp, who was named the Offensive MVP at the Verizon Wireless Milwaukee Cup in the Golden Grizzlies' season-opening tournament, was named to Soccer Buzz Elite Team of the Week for the week of Sept. 4. Rapp had three goals in the first two matches of the season, wins over Marquette and UW-Milwaukee.

WESTERN ILLINOIS' WANDTKE FINDS MORE WAYS INTO RECORD BOOK

Western Illinois' Amanda Wandtke finished her career with the Westerwinds in fine fashion. She established season records for goals scored (10) and points (24). She also closed her career as the school's all-time leader with 19 goals, 12 assists and 50 points.

CRUSADERS ENJOYING FINEST SEASON

Head coach Stephen Anthony's Valparaiso squad may not have finished first in the league standings, but it certainly has posted a terrific season. The Crusaders finished with a record of 10-9, its first winning record in the program's history. In addition, Valparaiso's ten wins this season are the most in one season in school history. The Crusaders' four league wins are also a school best.
